The
YEAR BOOK
of the
CLASS OF 1949

ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

ARLINGTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Dedication

Among the many who have prepared us for our future roles is one who has been our kindly teacher, and who is now our friend and principal. With a keen awareness of his constructive supervision and a deep appreciation of his sincere, personal interest, which has kept us striving toward our goals, we, the graduating class of 1949, dedicate our Year Book to Mr. Morrill.

Through The Years

THE BIG DAY had finally arrived! We were to enter our last phase of public schooling, the common meeting ground of all the youth of the town, the high school.

It was a beautiful day in September when we, the class of 1949, entered Arlington High School. The new assembly hall was promptly filled with the bewildered group. However, after a comforting and encouraging welcome from Mr. Gammons, our new principal, we felt more at ease. Nevertheless, for most of us the first few days were a horrible nightmare.

After a week of groping our way through the maze of corridors (with no help from the sophisticated upperclassmen) we, the humble and ridiculed Sophomores, finally settled down to diligent school work and found ourselves gradually getting into the swing of high school life.

As sophomores, our first Thanksgiving Day football game was rather a disappointment, for after travelling to Medford to play Melrose on a muddy field, our persevering team was defeated by one touchdown.

Our football defeat was soon compensated for, because our hockey team won not only the G. B. I., but the New England Championship as well. Our baseball team also brought acclaim to A. H. S.

In the theatrical view that year, the Dramatic Club presented "A Date With Judy," while Gilbert and Sullivan gave the popular operetta, "Pinafore." Both of these productions, thanks to the efforts of both the pupils and faculty involved, were great successes.

In June, after a year of both hard work and fun, we were faced with the widely discussed finals. This was a new adventure for us, and we anticipated the worst. However, much to our surprise, we didn't find the exams so difficult as the current report had them. (It says here!)

After the summer vacation, we found ourselves again at the portals of A. H. S., this time as Juniors, the "inbetweeners."

Our Thanksgiving Day was the happiest of happy days, for our boys defeated Melrose by two touchdowns. Our hockey team came through again with the G. B. I. Championship.

"Tomorrow the World," a serious play dealing with a young Nazi, was ably presented by talented members of the Dramatic Club. Through the efforts of all concerned, the production was both a financial and dramatic success. The Gilbert and Sullivan presented the "Gondoliers" charmingly, and that was equally successful.

On February 6, we held our Junior Prom, one of the biggest events of the year. None of us will forget how cold it was, and how much snow there was, or the trouble we had getting permission for the use of the family car. All who attended, however, had a wonderful time and all soon forgot their "weather troubles." The committees gave us a beautiful prom, and we all were very thankful.

Once again, we met dreaded finals, but when they were over, all Juniors breathed a sigh of relief, for these were our last finals.

After our Junior year, our beloved principal, Mr. Gammons, retired and Mr. Morrill, our former assistant principal, became our school master. We were all very sad to have Mr. Gammons go but also glad to have Mr. Morrill succeed him.

After a wonderful vacation (how short it seemed!) we again returned to A. H. S. We were now the respected "mighty Seniors," although we felt no different from before.

In September we held the elections for Class Officers. After much discussion, the final winners were "Bob" Lennon, president; "Howie" Cleary, vice-president; Lois Hart, secretary; and Jack Doran, treasurer.

At our last Thanksgiving Day game as members of A. H. S., we saw our boys march again to glorious victory.

All at once those activities that belong exclusively to Seniors began. Seniors rushed to have their pictures taken at the class photographer's, Loring Studio. Soon afterwards, the enthusiastic exchange of pictures began. The class rings were ordered from the jeweler, Loren Murchison.

The Year Book Committee was appointed, and the task of assembling the book began.

In the theatrical line, the Dramatic Club presented "The Divine Flora." Many talented Seniors helped to make this production the success that it was.

At the time of this writing, the Gilbert and Sullivan production of "Iolanthe" has not been presented, but it is well under way. Although the hockey season has just begun, at the end of five games the team is still victorious. Looks good!

Also in the future are the greatest events of our high school careers: the Senior Prom, Class Day, and, last but not least, Graduation. The Senior Prom is to be held at the Totem Pole on April 21. This is the first time A. H. S. has had a prom there.

We are now graduating from high school. In the years that we have spent here, we have known both work and play, and we shall always cherish the precious memories of high school days. In the future, some of us will go on to higher education, while others will venture into the business world. Regardless of the task, we must strive to do our best through the application of the knowledge and experience which we have gained here.

For it is our duty, the high school graduates of today, to lay the cornerstones of a peaceful and prosperous tomorrow.

TREASURER
JOHN DORAN

PRESIDENT
ROBERT LENNON

Joan M. Abbott

120 George Street

Honor Roll Swimming, Dancing, Riding

Fun-loving and popular Joan hopes to become a secretary. She is one of our football and hockey teams' most faithful rooters.

Priscilla L. Aitken

133 Mount Vernon Street

Swimming

"Pussy," a member of "Our Gang," plans to train for kindergarten teaching at Lesley. Because she loves dancing, parties and the "Rec" gave her many pleasant hours.

Barbara A. Ahern

21 Webster Street

*G. A. A., Art Club, Modern
Dancing, Swimming, Bowling*

It's Massachusetts Art for "Barb," who enjoyed all her art classes at A. H. S. She will always remember her study periods in the library.

Robert J. Ahern

21 Webster Street

"Whitie" plans to take up the machinist trade after graduation. He is interested in skating and swimming. Mr. Houston's classes will always be remembered by him.

Manuel A. Almeida

793 Concord Turnpike

Although Manuel is undecided about the future, at present he delights in driving model A Fords. Mr. Houston's classes gave him a good time as well as useful training.

Richard T. Ahlin

40 Maynard Street

Richard intends to become a dental technician. His favorite pastime is bowling. Mr. Eaton's math classes leave a lasting impression in his mind.

Shirley M. Ambrose

49 School Street

*Honor Roll, Chronicle,
G. A. A., Bowling, Swimming*

Versatile "Shirl" had wonderful times at the Kelsey parties she and "Gus" held. Between parties she had fun at A. H. S. sports events, especially the '48 Lynn Classical game.

John J. Aiken

87 North Union Street

*Hockey, baseball
Gilbert and Sullivan*

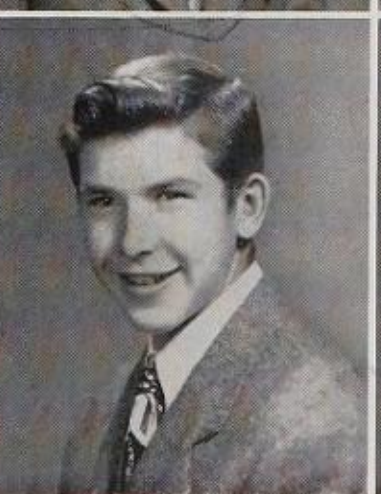

"Johnny," a B. C. aspirant, likes to play hockey at three o'clock in the morning at the Skating Club. He will long remember Mr. Kapff's math classes.

Mary C. Amorin

104 Rawson Road

Bowling

"Mamie," who hopes to make bookkeeping her career, will always remember Mr. Thompson's history classes and all the talking done in cooking. What, no cooking, "Mamie"?

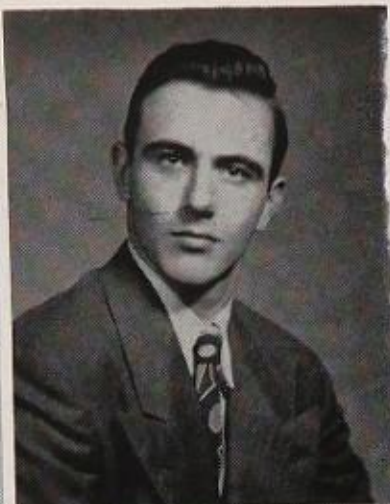

Carole Anderson

43 Pine Ridge Road

Dramatic Club, Gilbert and Sullivan, Year Book Committee

Colby will boast of our blonde-haired Carole. The wonderful times she spent with "Our Gang" and the W. Y. W. Club will be among her treasured memories.

William E. Aubin

148 Massachusetts Avenue

Ski Club

"Bill," an enthusiastic skier and dancer, won't forget Mr. Warner's math class or Mr. Houston for a long time. He's trying for admission to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy.

George M. Anderson

130 George Street

Hockey

"Andy" expects to be a sailor before he finishes his education at B. U. Hockey, dancing, and football keep him quite busy after school hours.

Norman R. Ayvazian

82 River Street

"Buff" plans to take up drafting for his future career. Baseball and attending movies on cold winter mornings were his preferred activities. Good luck, "Buff"!

Carolyn F. Aroian

149 Florence Avenue

Honor Roll, Chronicle, tennis

"Carol," who hopes to become a secretary, enjoys watching the Braves play. One of her favorite memories is Mr. Gammons saying, "May I have your attention, please?"

Anna Azadian

170 Pleasant Street

Chronicle, swimming, modern dancing

"Ann's" goal is to become a private secretary. She will always remember the mouth-watering odors that drifted from the lunchroom to her nearby fourth period class.

Janet K. Aronson

5 Littlejohn Street

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, Ski Club, President of G. A. A., Hockey, Chronicle, basketball, tennis

It's an active good sport like Janet who always helps make G. A. A. initiations such fun. She has had a wonderful time participating in all of the girls' sports.

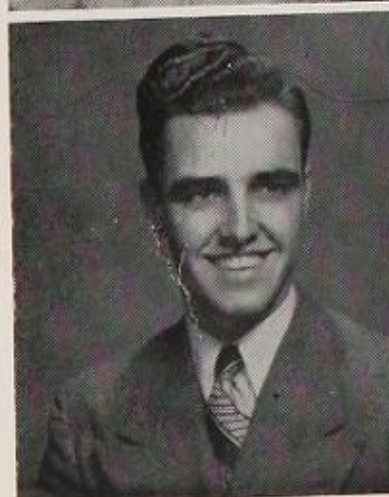

Lois A. Bain

19 Burton Street

Dramatic Club, Art Club

For "Loey," who likes to dance and swim, the football games and the lunchroom have been high points of school life. She plans to attend Kathleen Dell's.

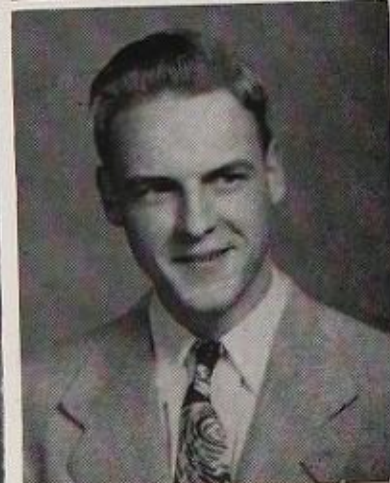

Perley J. Arthur

282 Renfrew Street

Golf, Gilbert and Sullivan, Student Council

"P. J." will continue his education at B. U. He's glad he was on such a swell golf team. His favorite class—Miss Norwood's; his favorite activities—golf and swimming.

Glenn T. Barber

22 Brantwood Road

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club

Glenn, an ardent sports fan, plans to attend the University of Massachusetts. He enjoyed his appearances in the Dramatic Club productions even more than the pleased audiences.

Florence E. Barclay

55 Park Avenue Extension

Honor Roll

Tennis and dancing, as well as Mr. Courtney's junior business organization class, have rated tops with friendly and hard-working "Fay." Best wishes to her at Fisher's.

Claire E. Barry

150 Jason Street

Glee Club, swimming, G. A. A.

Claire plans to go to a junior college but doesn't know yet which one. She's a supporter of hockey, having attended most of the school games.

Harris Baseman

9 Alton Street

Honor Roll, Chronicle, Dramatic Club, Latin Club

"Basey," our loss but Yale's gain, still likes to visit neighboring communities to view the scenery. He enjoyed many stag parties of the mysterious "Jolly Boys' Club."

Ronald W. Beers

168 Renfrew Street

Ronald, whose most pleasant outside activities are hunting and camping in the White Mountains, will further his education at Northeastern University.

Shirley A. Behnke

29 Boulevard Road

Honor Roll

Because she loves to dance, "Lee" has been well entertained every week at the "Rec." Skating and bowling are two more of her favorite activities.

Eric V. Benson

186 Scituate Street

Honor Roll, Ski Club

"Benny" always had great difficulty remembering his study hall seats. Being a ski enthusiast, he is an active member of the Ski Club.

Darrell A. Bent

374 Massachusetts Avenue

Glee Club

Sweet "Darry" especially liked class discussions and study periods. At Wheaton College she will still be able to swim, skate, and ride horseback for recreation.

Robert F. Bernard

3 Lanark Road

"Bernie" plans to make aviation his life career, but he will still find time to go bowling. One of the best features of high school, according to him, was the lunchroom.

William B. N. Berry

9 Irving Street

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, Stamp Club, tennis team

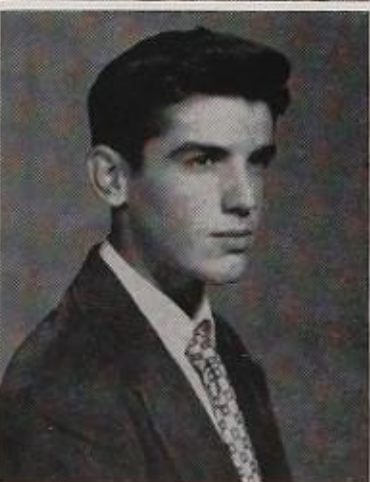

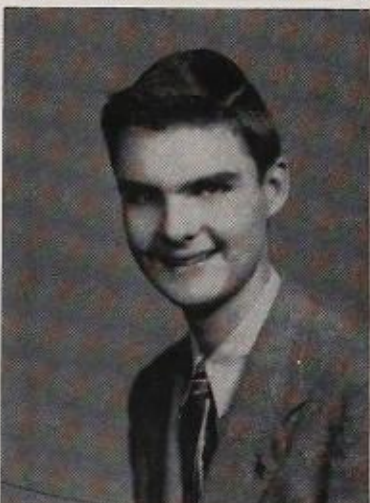

Brilliant but quiet "Bill" finds scouting a very satisfying hobby. Next year he will be found plugging at a naval academy. Good luck, "Bill"!

Robert J. Bianchi

219 Cedar Avenue

Golf team, Ski Club

"Bob," whose favorite sports are golf and skiing, thinks he will enter Boston University. He will always remember the 1948 State Schoolboy Golf Finals held in the pouring rain.

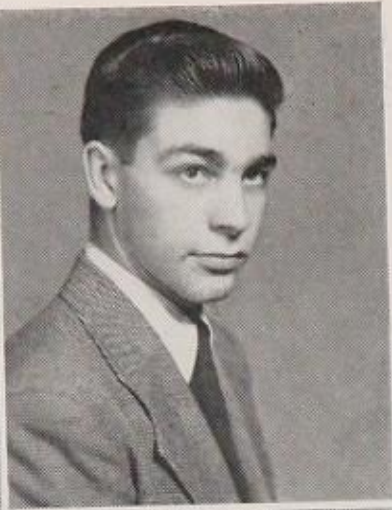

John J. Bilafer

88 Oxford Street

Gilbert and Sullivan, track, hockey

"Bill," who enjoys playing hockey, looks toward Dartmouth for further education. Mr. Downs' fifth period U. S. history classes stand out among "Bill's" recollections.

John W. Boudreau

6 Thomas Street

Like so many boys from the machine shop, "Jack" will long remember Mr. Houston's related classes. Though machine work rates first, "Jack" also likes to swim.

Best of Luck Elaine

Winifred F. Blaney

47 Maynard Street

Gilbert and Sullivan, Glee Club

"Winnie" likes to ride horseback and dance. She will attend Framingham State Teachers' College to prepare for future work as a dietitian. Good luck, "Winnie"!

Elaine P. Bourque

120 Jason Street

Honor Roll, Fine Arts Club, G. A. A.

Elaine isn't sure if she wants to train for teaching at Framingham. Struggling through Mr. Eaton's math course and ice skating made her high school career exciting.

Margaret A. Blank

43 Silk Street

"Blondie," whose ambition is to be an air hostess for American Airlines, won't forget the Lynn Classical game in her junior year, when she lost her shoe.

Faith F. Bowlby

47 Magnolia Street

Gilbert and Sullivan, Glee Club, "Rec" Committee

"Shorty," who had fun at the Lynn Classical games, wants to be a history teacher and, believe it or not, would like to teach at A. H. S.

Richard Borg

104 Melrose Street

Football

"Dick," a six-footer, plans to become an alumnus of Brown. Swimming and hunting are his favorite sports. In future years he'll recall his Spanish class with Mr. Petralia.

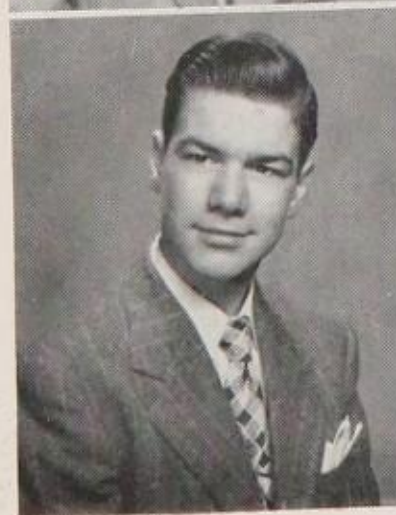

William F. Bowler

27 Central Street

Basketball, football

"Bill's" favorite outside activities are basketball and hockey. Long after his school years have passed he will remember Mr. Irish's English classes.

*All the fun in world
with the walk
Brown*

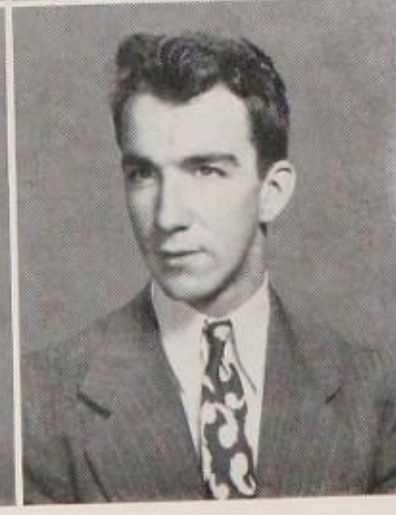

Alfred P. Boudreau

59 Magnolia Street

Hockey

"Al's" biggest memory is the morning his car ran out of gas on his way to school. "Al," future business man, then possessed eight cents.

Paul M. Bradley

137 Palmer Street

"Brad" remembers very clearly that the bell never seemed to ring in biology until he had been called on. Electrical engineering is his choice for a profession.

Richard P. Brenton

32 Kenilworth Road

Tall, blond "Dick," who enjoys swimming and bowling, will hold his sophomore aeronautics class longest in his memories of Arlington High. His future is undecided.

Alice M. Callahan

73 Freeman Street

Honor Roll, Art Club, Dramatic Club, Chronicle

After graduation from Massachusetts Art, "Larz" will be a fashion illustrator. Dashing into school at 8:14½ A. M. and W. Y. W. meetings will linger longest in her memory.

Donald F. Brosnan

88 Lake Street

Honor Roll, baseball team, Dramatic Club

"Don" will enter Tufts where he will major in French and chemistry. An outstanding baseball player, he also likes to play hockey.

John M. Calnan

18 Eustis Street

Dramatic Club, Fine Arts, baseball

"Cal" is a Bruins' fan and used to meet the fellows at the hockey games quite often. Duke is his selection for furthering his education.

Anne M. Bullock

126 Robbins Road

Quiet Anne enjoys "getting into mischief" and dancing. She will never forget her history class with Mr. Johnson. Best wishes for your future, Anne!

Francis M. Calvi

11 Alfred Road

"Frank," who'll enter photographic school, thinks he couldn't possibly forget "Skippy" Skinner's physics class. He doesn't understand why he missed the first half of the '48 Lynn Classical game.

Joseph M. Burke

289 Lake Street

Track, Lunchroom

Dartmouth-bound "Joe's" favorites are football, baseball, hockey, and track. Even the memory of the long climb from room 4B to 34 tires him out.

Dorothy M. Cameron

18 Buena Vista Road

Bowling, tennis, swimming

Witty "Dottie's" future is still in question. She had lots of fun at A. H. S. football and hockey games and loves to go on hayrides with "Our Gang."

Jean L. Cadario

64 Glenburn Road

Honor Roll, G. A. A., swimming, bowling, basketball

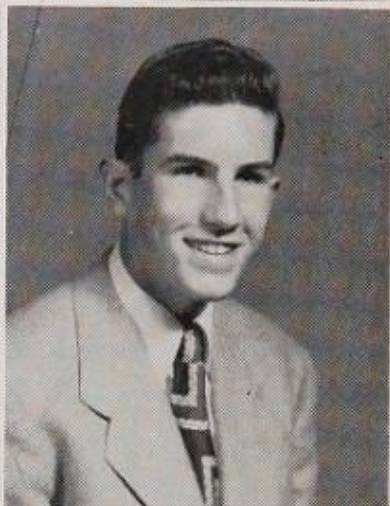

Mr. Cavalieri's algebra II class will always remain vivid in Jean's memories of A. H. S. She wants to become an airline hostess after graduating from B. U.

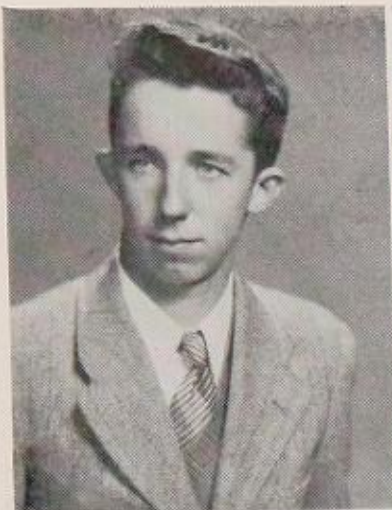

Franklin H. Cameron

27 Ashland Street

Printing

"Fuggy" plays football in his spare time. Thoughts of A. H. S. will recall to him Mr. Arthur's printing class and the fun he had in the lunchroom.

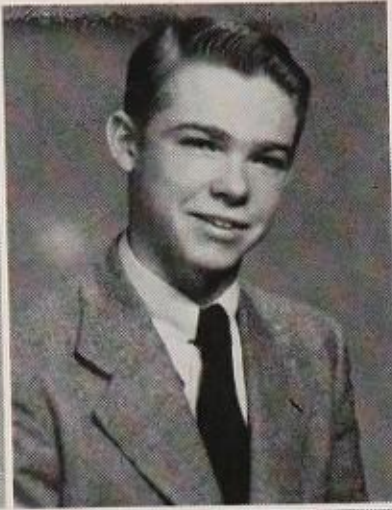

Frederic M. Cameron

126 Overlook Road

*Honor Roll, golf team,
Latin Club*

"Fred," our brilliant Latin student, likes golf and skating. He plans to enter Saint Charles College to prepare for the priesthood. We all wish you the very best, "Fred."

John E. Canniff

165 Mystic Street

Baseball, hockey

"Jack," who collects pictures of famous athletes, is completely absorbed in baseball. We hope he will be able to continue his interest at Tufts next year.

Ronald R. Cammarata

50 Fairmont Street

"Ronnie," who enjoyed Mr. Sandberger's class, thinks he will attend B. U. A sports fan, he holds a vigorous interest in bowling, hockey, football, and baseball.

Barbara C. Carey

74 Windsor Street

G. A. A., field hockey

Our future University of Miami student will never forget her senior year. Her favorite outside sports are bowling, swimming and horseback riding.

Douglas G. Campbell

8 Columbia Road

*Hockey, Dramatic Club,
track*

"Soup" thinks he'll continue his education at B. U. We all remember how he strove to keep his marks up so he'd be eligible for the hockey team.

Barbara E. Carey

152 Lowell Street, Somerville

*Chronicle, Fine Arts Club,
Ski Club*

"Boops" thinks "electing" officers for the Fine Arts Club year book picture was very amusing. Though she's headed for art school, English literature fascinates her.

Rose M. Campobasso

50 Decatur Street

Bowling, badminton

"Rosie" expects to enter the Fisher Business School. She likes bowling, swimming, and dancing and enjoyed the "gab" sessions held in the old hall before school.

Frank T. Carlson

57 Quincy Street

*Honor Roll, Stamp Club,
Orchestra*

"Tom" hopes to enter Tufts next year to study zoology. He enjoys music, football, and hockey. The chemistry experiments that went wrong stand out in his memory.

Donald J. Canniff

670 Massachusetts Avenue

Football, basketball

"Don," a football star, plans to join the service where he'll be able to see the world. He'll miss Monday morning discussions of Saturday night's good times.

Mildred M. Carlson

201 Spring Street

Honor Roll, Gilbert and Sullivan, Student Council, Dramatic Club, Chronicle, Year Book, Student-Guest of Arlington Woman's Club

Mr. Eaton's ability to leave her speechless is among pretty "Millie's" many fond memories. A future architectural student at North Park, she enjoys singing. We enjoy listening!

Evelyn M. Caruso

4 Mott Street

Dramatic Club, Year Book, "Rec," Chronicle

It's B. U. for "Evie," who often arrived at football games two hours early. Her last words: "Most seniors acted bored; I was just tired."

Ann C. Casey

36 Bowdoin Street

G. A. A., tennis, bowling, "Rec," swimming

Athletic Ann chooses Fisher's for her secretarial training. Horseback riding and Alan Ladd's movies are her favorites. She had many good times in the lunchroom and her homeroom.

Arlene M. Casey

36 Bowdoin Street

Honor Roll, G. A. A., swimming, bowling, tennis, "Rec"

It's B. U. for Arlene, who hopes to acquire patience and knowledge for teaching commercial subjects. She's a connoisseur of Bing Crosby records and likes dancing at the Totem Pole.

Theresa R. Catalano

69 Rhinecliffe Street

Honor Roll

"Terry," who wishes to enter the business world, is interested in tennis and bicycle riding. The "everlasting" homework assignments provide her with "everlasting" memories. Good luck, "Terry"!

Howard W. Chadwick

71 Claremont Avenue

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, Ski Club

"Dole, Esq." outdoor type, will remember the long trail winding to graduation. He'll study forestry at the University of Idaho. Probable destination—Alaska. Forward bills, etc., to that address.

Donald M. Chambers

136 Wildwood Avenue

Donald, who liked Mr. Arthur's printing classes in school, will become a printer after he attends B. U. Incidentally, he's an enthusiastic A. H. S. football fan.

Norma E. Chatelle

62 Waldo Road

G. A. A.

Shy "Mickey," another Florence Nightingale, plans to become a nurse. Bowling, dancing and horseback riding are her most-enjoyed activities. Mr. Eaton's math class will be among her treasured memories.

Leo C. Clancy

46 Old Mystic Street

Honor Roll, Student Council, Gilbert and Sullivan, Representative at Boys' State

Popular and handsome Leo, who is definitely a sports enthusiast, will never forget the friends he has made. We'll all remember likeable Leo, too.

Howard Clery

258 Massachusetts Avenue

Football, Class Vice-President, Representative at Boys' State

Prospects of a bright teaching career loom for "Howie," after he graduates from Dartmouth. His sophomore year is memorable because of the fine friends he made then.

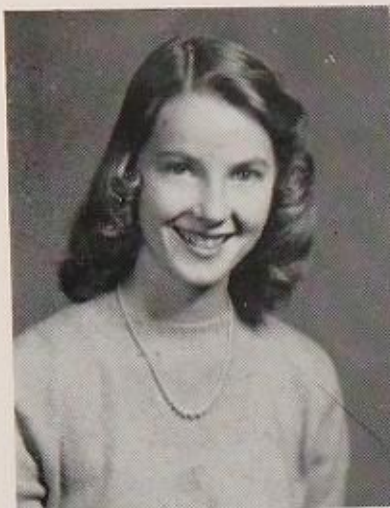

Margaret F. Cloherty

115 Newland Road

G. A. A., "Rec" Committee, swimming, bowling

When "Stretch" is a nurse, her medicine will be as soothing as the soft drinks she sold at the "Rec." Mr. Kroll's chemistry class is another happy memory.

Constance L. Colby

22 Highland Avenue

Dramatic Club, Gilbert and Sullivan

"Connie" hopes to enter Hickox to train for business. Riding, swimming, bowling, and dancing are tops with "Connie." Miss Binnig's shorthand classes are among her never-to-be-forgotten memories.

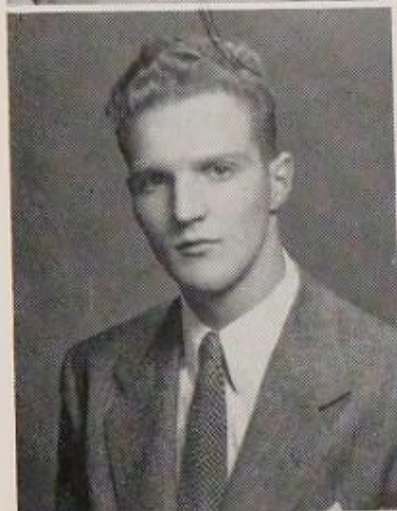

Barbara E. Colton

15 Westminster Avenue

Honor Roll, skating, bowling, Dramatic Club, Chronicle

"Barb" had fun in all her classes, especially Miss Binnig's. She was very surprised to find that Medford has so many likeable boys. What about Arlington, "Barb"?

William J. Colby

38 Magnolia Street

The "Muchacho Kid" enjoys boxing and swimming. At imaginative moments he sees himself a soldier of fortune or a marine captain; more likely he'll go to Notre Dame.

Richard J. Commins

56 Mount Vernon Street

Honor Roll

Running for his homeroom when the last bell rang will always remind "Dick" of A. H. S., whether he chooses to join the service or go to college.

Joseph A. Colleran

24 Chester Street

Joe's future is uncertain. He enjoys hockey and baseball and can't forget running down Eastern Avenue every morning at 8:05 to get to school on time.

Marjorie H. Connors

89 Thorndike Street

"Margie" wants to be a comptometer operator. She says her senior teachers were wonderful, as were all homework assignments. Dancing also rates highly with her.

Betty-Jane Collings

5 Johnson Road

Fine Arts Club, Chronicle, Dramatic Club

Talkative "Chuck" was truly an active member of Miss Norwood's interesting English class. A gifted artist, she will study at the School of Modern American Artists.

Olive A. Connors

200 Broadway

Chronicle, "Rec" Committee

Pretty "Ollie" would like to become a buyer. Her junior sewing class will provide many happy memories as well as useful material for her career.

Ralph W. Collins

7 Morris Street

Football

"Rip" wants to help secure the peace as an officer in the Army. He will drown his woes in the camp swimming pool during time off.

Emanuel J. Consales

27 Marathon Street

Gilbert and Sullivan, track

"Manny" will attend Massachusetts Trade to learn the fine points of automotive mechanics. He loves to swim and will never forget the Lynn Classical games.

Richard W. Coughlin

21 Dartmouth Street

A zealous sports fan, "Dick's" favorite outside activities are baseball, hockey, and basketball. He'd like to work on a newspaper after finishing some business school.

William J. Coughlin

59 Winter Street

Baseball

"Willow" really used to bend over backwards getting to Mr. Kemp's lab. classes. Next year he hopes to attend Northeastern and maybe play baseball there.

Edward F. Courtney

1 Cross Street

Gilbert and Sullivan

"Eddie," an ardent football and hockey fan, says he had "hard times" in English. At any rate, he wants an orchestra of his own some day.

John Donald Coyne

18 Gardner Street

"Don," a "regular fella," who likes almost all sports, plans to take a pre-dental course at Northeastern next year. Does anyone need some new teeth?

Nancy A. Frances Coyne

15 Lewis Avenue

G. A. A.

Nancy has found there are 108 stairs to her English class. She'll continue living in the clouds by training to be an airline hostess at Mt. Ida.

Jean Crandall

1090 Massachusetts Avenue

Honor Roll, swimming, bowling

Tiny "Red" intends to go to Simmons. Among her fond memories of A. H. S. will be the "Rec." Dancing and knitting are her favorite recreations.

Dorothy A. Crosby

45 Teel Street

Swimming, basketball, field hockey, softball, G. A. A., tennis

The pleasure "Dottie" experienced playing field hockey under Miss McCarthy's coaching—and Miss Binnig's words, "You don't do that in an office," will be recalled often.

Katherine A. Crowley

11 Varnum Street

G. A. A., field hockey, basketball, softball

Athletic "Kay," captain of the field hockey team, holds her math III class and G. A. A. parties among her most treasured memories. She will attend business school.

Marjorie A. Crowley

178 Highland Avenue

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, Chronicle

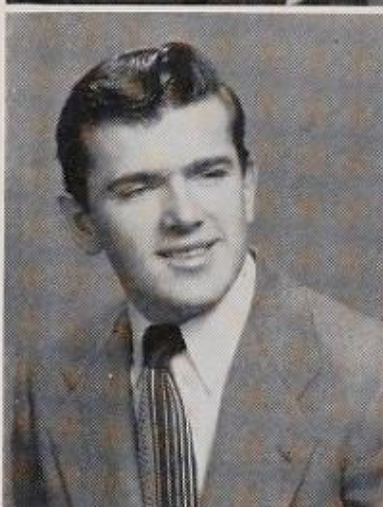

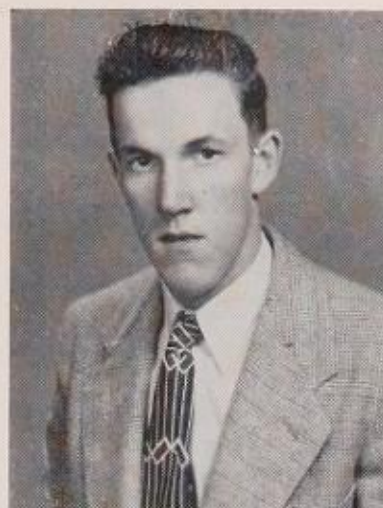

Mr. Courtney's demonstrative gestures in class gave "Margie" many a pleasant laugh. In her leisure time she enjoys playing a good game of tennis.

Eleanor T. Cullinane

95 Medford Street

Honor Roll, tennis

Bookkeeping is Theresa's chosen vocation—bowling her favorite activity. Neither she nor the teacher will soon forget how long it took her to complete a problem in clothing.

Teresa M. Cullinane

7 Mill Street

Latin Club

"Tresa" plans to go to Salem Teachers' next year. The high spot in her memories of A. H. S. is the time she got caught "skipping" gym.

Kathryn L. Curtin

33 Fairview Avenue

Honor Roll, G. A. A., tennis, swimming, Chronicle, bowling

"Kay," bound for Hickox Secretarial School next year, likes dancing and swimming. The hard times she had trying to remember not to forget will remain longest in her memory.

Charles B. Cummings

48 Wildwood Avenue

Manager football, hockey, Gilbert and Sullivan

"Buzz" is going into the milk business with his father. He will remember always the day some ball bearings were rolling around Mr. Kapff's room.

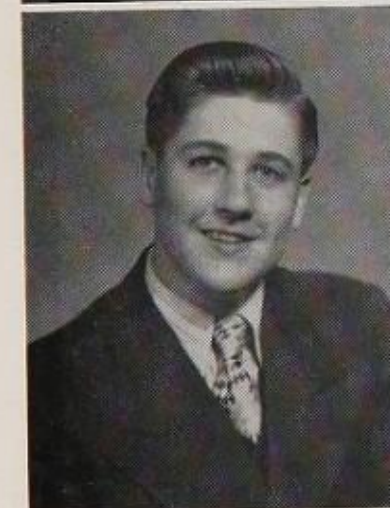

Theresa M. Curtis

172 Highland Avenue

Chronicle, bowling, tennis

"Terry" was cut out to be a secretary, and we know she'll be a good one. Dancing and swimming constitute her two favorite outside pastimes.

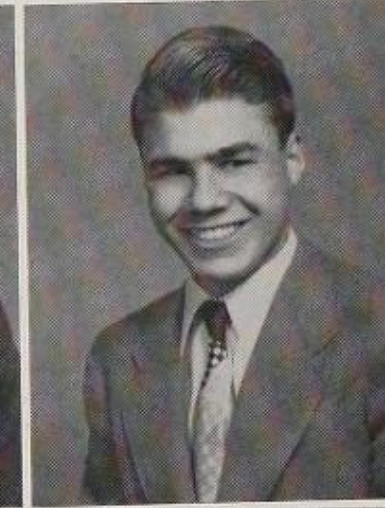

Lewis E. Cummings

48 Wildwood Avenue

Football Manager

"Lew" enjoys all sports, especially football. Mr. Reardon's fancy jump from the stage at a football rally furnished "Lew" with real amusement and a bright memory.

Paul P. Cusolito

66 Bellington Street

"Cusie" is a bit undecided about the future, but his past at Arlington High will be cherished among the highest of his fond memories.

Robert E. Cummings

8 Water Street

Camera Club

"Bob's" favorite outside activity, model aircraft, will help him in his chosen career, aviation. He is one of the many boys who'll remember Mr. Houston's classes.

Anthony J. DaCampo

4 Dorothy Road

Football

"Anchore," our baseball enthusiast and football player, has decided to be a hairdresser, though he thinks he'll probably have to go into the Navy first.

Eilene I. Cunningham

64 Gordon Street
West Somerville

Singing and ice skating take top honors as Eilene's favorite activities. Assemblies and her chorus classes at A. H. S. will always be bright in her memory.

Edward F. Daley

132 Webster Street

"Ed," a rooter for all A. H. S. football games, especially liked those held at our home field. Mr. Arthur's good humor also brightened long school days for him.

Patricia J. Daley

10 Walnut Street

Field hockey, softball, Chronicle, G. A. A.

Next year will find "patient Pat" at Lesley training for kindergarten teaching. The '48 Lynn Classical game, and before-school meetings in the old hall are her top memories.

Virginia A. Daley

10 Walnut Street

*Swimming, tennis, basketball,
bowling*

The week-ends of her senior year will burn brightly in "Ginny's" memory. She enjoyed all A. H. S. sports events—the '48 Lynn Classical game in particular.

Joan E. D'Amore

65 Fisher Road

G. A. A., swimming, basketball, bowling

"Pokey" has chosen B. U. for her future alma mater. She loves to drive her father's car and will never forget Miss Krastin's junior English classes.

Peter Danielson

144 Lake Street

Hockey

All types of outdoor sports, especially hockey, rate highly with "Pete." At Northeastern he will recall his junior year lab. classes with genial Mr. Miller.

James N. Deane

140 Highland Avenue

*Baseball, football, hockey,

Olympia G. Dukakis

39 Russell Street

Honor Roll, G. A. A., Ski Club, basketball, tennis, hockey

Our future gym teacher has chosen Sargent. "Limpey," who has personality galore, loves fencing. She also helped the memorable G. A. A. initiations to be such big successes.

Arthur B. Driscoll

93 Webster Street

Honor Roll, basketball, track

Art isn't quite sure what he'll do after he graduates from B. C. In high school, though, basketball and track helped to keep him busy.

June M. Dudley

194 Florence Avenue

Bowling, Glee Club

"Mouse," who will never forget Mr. Einzig's chorus class, is undecided about the future. We all wish her great success in whatever she may undertake.

Janet M. Ellingwood

23 Fordham Street

Whoever Janet's employer may be, he will be a lucky person—another well-trained secretary from Miss Binnig's unforgettable class. She liked the "Rec" and bowling.

Arthur J. Duffy

29 Bellington Street

Football, Chronicle

"Duff" claims he especially enjoys haunting people. He and the fellows had quite a time when they attended the movies the day of the scheduled circus parade.

Patricia A. Ellis

127 Rhinecliff Street

"Pat," who joined our class late in 1947, will always be grateful for the friendly helpfulness of her many new friends. One of our sweetest is "Pat"!

Douglas C. Emeneau

41 Grafton Street

Dramatic Club

"Doug" has built and flown many gas model airplanes for fun. He doesn't know where he'll study, but eventually he hopes to be a prosperous banker.

James J. Duffy

1334 Massachusetts Avenue

"Jimmy" recalls his eventful business organization class with Miss Nash. Having enjoyed himself for three years, he will now settle down to a position in accounting.

Edward Emery

145 Newport Street

Cross country, track, hockey, football

Big, bashful "Ed" will be remembered by all for his outstanding participation in sports. He hopes to attend Brown next year. Good luck, "Ed"!

William F. Emmons

80 Eastern Avenue

Honor Roll, football, hockey

Athletic "Bill" will long remember Mr. Eaton's math classes and playing football for A. H. S. As yet undecided about the future, he's sure to succeed in any field.

John A. Erickson

60 Claremont Avenue

"Eric" anticipates graduation, so that he may continue his studies at Burdett. Like many of his classmates, "Eric" finds swimming an exhilarating and refreshing sport.

Stanley Evans

591 Summer Street

May the United States Marine Corps furnish "Stan" with as much enjoyment as Mr. Burke's classes have! Perhaps he will do some swimming and skiing, also.

Francis J. Fabry

596 Summer Street

Orchestra

Making many friends and having wonderful times at G. and S. rehearsals are highlights in the high school career of our talented and brilliant violinist, "Sonny."

David H. Fagerstrom

193 Hillside Avenue

Music will be "Dingo's" career, for he is planning to attend the New England Conservatory of Music. Other than music his chief interest is hockey.

Louise F. Faria

55 Exeter Street

Pete J. Pandolfino

9 Dartmouth Street

Football, baseball, tennis, hockey

"Pete," who will be a barber, had a wonderful time at the '48 "Rec" Hallowe'en Dance. Perhaps he took his beloved guitar to the dance.

Leo P. Paradis

231 Broadway

Basketball

Leo, who liked A. H. S. proms, says the cooks in the lunchroom were among his best friends at school. Next year he plans to attend Bryant and Stratton.

Lawrence E. Parece

250 Mystic Street

"Larry" intends to become an automotive electric specialist. Though he likes sports and exercise, he definitely didn't enjoy standing at attention in Mr. Lewis' class.

Richard D. Pasciuto

86 Fairmont Street

Lengthy arguments with Miss Horrigan about English will help "Dick" to use good grammar always. We wish him success in his civil engineering course at Tufts.

Barbara A. Patterson

74 Trowbridge Street

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, Periclean Forum, Latin Club

Barbara, a future teacher, divides her time between the "Jams" and a discussion club. Being an apt student, she found Miss Rounds' Latin classes especially pleasant.

Mary Pelletier

34 Sunset Road

Honor Roll, President of Periclean Forum, Year Book Committee, swimming, Representative at Girls' State, Latin Club

Versatile Mary treasures many pleasant memories of congenial classmates and patient teachers, Miss Rounds' Latin class rating tops. May she ever achieve success and happiness!

Barbara E. Poole

16 Orvis Road

Honor Roll, bowling, swimming, basketball

"Boobsie" aims to become a secretary. When she reaches that goal, she'll often think of Miss Binnig's "office." For outside recreation she likes to swim.

John E. Portanova

25 Kimball Road

Band, Orchestra, bowling

Band classes and football games always gave John a good time. Best of all, though, according to John, a future accountant, was the "good old 'Rec'."

Florence S. Powell

3 Huntington Road

Glee Club, Band

Petite "Shirl," who plans to attend William and Mary College, loves to work with little children. She'll always delight in remembering Mr. Russell's music classes.

David M. Pratt

385 Massachusetts Avenue

David, who's partial to small colleges, has never recovered from the shock of passing math, his most difficult subject. His planned field of interest is history research.

Donald T. Priest

69 Harlow Street

Football

"Don," familiar to us all because of his football prowess, holds Arlington High's hockey games and Mr. Downs' American history class among his fondest memories.

Ann M. Provost

25 Parker Street

Dramatic Club, Debating Club, "Rec"

Nancy's big worry at A. H. S. was getting to school on time. Somehow or other she was tardy even on the day she arrived at 7:45.

William D. Power

10 Whittemore Street

Football

"Honk" hopes to enter M. I. T. after he leaves school. He, like so many others, will long remember Mr. Fusco and his fascinating history class.

Robert A. Powers

11 Lowell Street

Good-natured "Bob" is soon going to be curing the ills of automobile engines. Being a sports fan, he will long remember skiing at Mt. Cranmore.

Jerome J. Puddister

299 Park Avenue

Basketball

"Joe Puts" is headed for B. C., yet he still hopes to own a midget auto some day. He'll long remember his study hall cat naps.

Helen C. Poznesh

34 Waldo Road

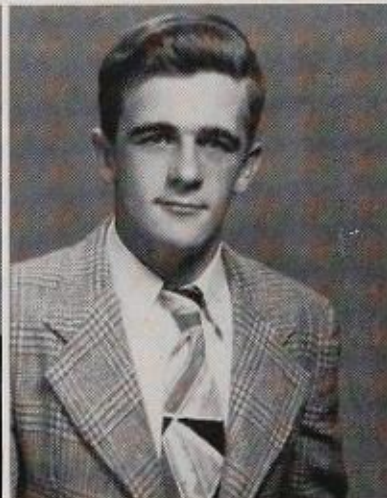

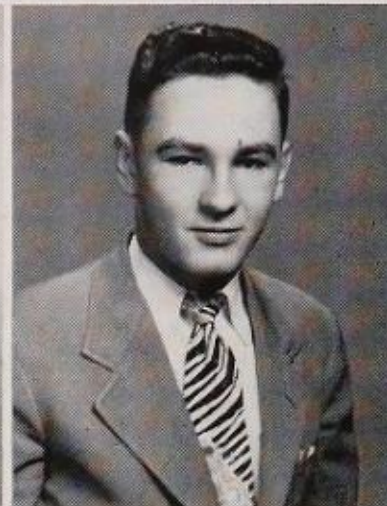

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club

Though friendly Helen, who'll make a fine secretary, thought her history class very dull, she enjoyed many a laugh in Mr. Irish's well-known English classes.

Andrew J. Pullo

95 Oxford Street

"Andy," another future student at B. C., is enthusiastic about baseball and hockey. The '48 Lynn Classical game, though, outshines all the other sports events.

Alice T. Quessy

20 Higgins Street

Band, cheerleader

Talented and vivacious Alice, who has favored us with her unique performances, will appear with Shipsted and Johnson Ice Follies to further delight and entertain her friends.

Donald H. Reenstierna

21 Spring Valley

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club, basketball

"Lightnin'" plans to enter an engineering school next year. Probably the most enjoyable experience of his high school career was the "Jolly Boys" club.

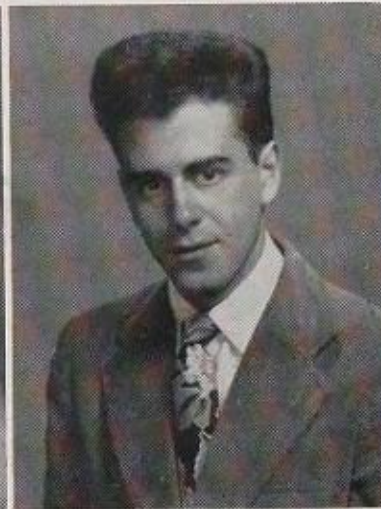

Eleanor M. Quinn

75 Richfield Road

Honor Roll, basketball

While studying home economics at Simmons, Eleanor will recall the amusement of passing notes under Mr. Courtney's door during her days at A. H. S.

Michael N. Renaccio

29 Wachusett Avenue

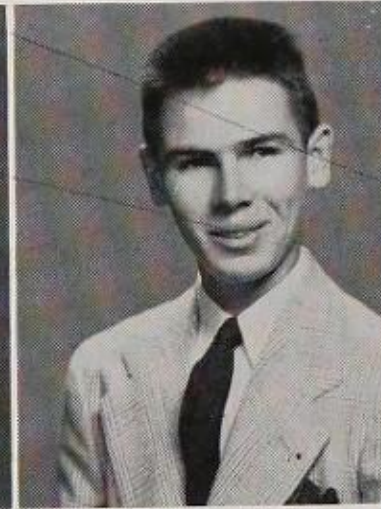

Dancing and football are "Mike's" after school activities. He will, no doubt, look back on Miss Norwood and English IV while studying business at B. C.

John J. Quinn

103 Milton Street

John will study engineering at Northeastern. Mr. Skinner's hard luck stories will linger long in his memory, as well as in those of his classmates.

Frederick L. Reynolds, Jr.

307 Gray Street

Honor Roll, hockey, Ski Club

"Fred," who plans to attend Harvard to become a chemist, will never forget Mr. Skinner's physics class. Both sail boat racing and swimming are tops with him.

Frank J. Ramacorti

93 Pleasant Street

Tennis

Still breathless from getting to school mornings with just a few minutes to spare, "Mac" is now turning his steps toward B. U. Best wishes, "Mac"!

Patricia J. Reynolds

53 Windsor Street

Honor Roll, field hockey, basketball, G. A. A., Student Council, Chronicle, Art Club

Versatile "Pat" intends to go to Massachusetts Art, where she will study fashion illustrating. Swimming and sewing take top honors on her list of varied activities.

Catherine M. Reagan

71 Teel Street

Honor Roll, Dramatic Club

Two whole years of Miss Peck's homework have made an indelible entry in "Katie's" book of memories. A member of the "Jams," she also likes swimming.

Lillian M. Ribeiro

29 Berkeley Street

Chronicle, bowling

Her senior year, including Miss Forsyth's cooking class and dates, is outstanding in "Lil's" fond memories. She likes to skate, both on wheels and blades.

Warren W. Rich

18 Ronald Road

Honor Roll, golf

When he reaches Harvard, we hope "Rico," a seasoned traveler, will be able to keep up an interest in golf and skiing despite his extensive studies.

Betty A. Roby

353 Gray Street

Tennis, G. A. A.

Lively "Betty" enjoys dancing, ice skating, and music. Going to out-of-town football games and meeting friends in the lunchroom will never be forgotten by her.

Margaret Richards

"Tony" goes out in a big way for most sports, especially football. Mr. Petralia has been the outstanding feature of his high school career.

Trueman Le Baron Robbins

42 Ronald Road

"Tiny" likes all sports in general—basketball and hockey in particular. He is planning to attend Amherst where he will take up the study of trees.

Augustine C. Rosone

23 Governor Road

It's Northeastern for "Gus" who won't forget the arguments and discussions in mechanical drawing classes. Automobile designing and model building are his favorite pastimes.

Joseph R. Tartarini

173 Mystic Street

Although we wish Joseph luck as an auto mechanic, we hope he finds time for an occasional game of golf and a bit of bowling.

John J. Tyrrell, Jr.

24 Teel Street

"Terry," a smooth dancer, is back to graduate from A. H. S. after two years with the U. S. Marines. His future plans include studying at U. C. L. A.

Russell A. Williamson

191 Waverly Street

Honor Roll

"Russ" is quite sure he'll remember graduation day above all else. He's a future tool and die maker. The Naval Reserve is his favorite outside activity.

Last Will and Testament

CLASS OF 1949

We, the seniors of Arlington High School, on this day of June in the year 1949, being of unsound mind and sounder body, do make and devise this, our last will and testament. We do hereby nullify and make void all previous statements.

- I. To Mr. Morrill, Mr. Downs, and the members of the faculty, our heartfelt thanks for three memorable years and much of the credit for our future success.
- II. To Mrs. Moffatt, Mr. Eaton, and Mr. Colletta a bigger and better Year Book, a less obstinate staff, and the 1949 staff's appreciation for their thoughtful guidance and service.

III. Various general and specific bequests:

To the class of 1950 a bottle of yeast tablets so that they may rise to the occasion of being seniors.

To all—the dark and creeky corridors of the “old building” and the bright sayings we (and our predecessors) have carved into the study hall desks.

Those seniors haunted by warning slips and detention leave as fast as they can.

To Mr. Kemp we leave more horrible examples of the rising generation.

The senior girls leave worn and burnt spots in the booths at Martin's for the girls who will spend their spare time in there next year.

To the enthusiasts of the coming eleven, Coach “Toz” is holding in storage all muscles so neatly (s)trained by Bob Salisbury, Don Canniff, Jack Doran, Jack Donnelly, Babe O'Brien, and Don Priest.

Ralph Skinner, Glenn Barber, and Pearly Arthur leave their fathers.

The senior boys at the back table in the lunchroom leave their “accidentally (?)” broken milk bottles to Mr. Downs.

Mary Sullivan gladly leaves modern dancing to Miss Garrity.

Arthur Foster and Marion Goldenberg leave their executive talents and room 7 to next year's ambitious Chronicle workers.

Alice Callahan leaves her long legs to the next person who dashes into room 4b at 14.59 minutes past 8:00 o'clock.

Billy Scanlon, Ricky McSweeny, and Tiny Dotson leave all their history “crib” notes to Miss Wakefield.

Bill McCurdy leaves his attempts to “bluff” Miss Barry to Bill Alonso.

Margaret Nolan hates to leave Mr. Russell.

John Wise leaves his place as leading mathematician to the boy who will take his place.

Joan Gnecco and Dolores Heffernan leave their brains to Chris Card.

To the prospective ends of the '49 season we leave the snaring ability, fleeting cleats, and swiveling hips of Paul Lally and Pete McGrath, this year's ends.

We all regret to leave Mr. Danforth's good-will and ready smile.
 Shirley Ambrose and Elaine Gustavson, Barbara Carey and Norma Chatelle leave their long close friendship to Marilyn Olsson and Dot Foley.
 Leo Clancy leaves his success for winning elections to sister Martha.
 Bill Johnson, George Anderson, and George Sallisbury leave their hammers and machines long enough to graduate.
 Howie Clery, Don Canniff, and Pete Kenny leave to find some parties to crash.
 Polly Donahue leaves to have her glasses fixed.
 Allan Kenny, Grace Heaney, Del Varello, and Ralph Collins leave the memory of all the good times they shared to next year's mighty foursome.
 Oscar Swenson leaves his role in the Dramatic Club play to next year's leading man.
 Joan Mullin, Elinor Quinn, Ginny Hession, Nancy Perham, and president Evie Caruso leave their positions in Girls' Club to the girls who will take their place when they go.
 Carol Anderson leaves her booth at Martin's to Maureen Quinn any time she wants it.
 To Mr. Eaton we leave our heartfelt wishes that next year he won't have more seniors to "sit in" on math classes in preparation for scholastic aptitudes.
 Shirley Wallstrom leaves her beauty crown to Jean Dorian.
 Ruth Foley leaves her tonsils to anyone wanting to miss a week of school.
 To the three best looking boys in the junior class, we bequeath all the sighs, stares, and whistles received by Bill Emmons, Paul Doherty, and Larry Warren.
 Gino and Victor Nocca leave a copy of their new book entitled "How to Tell Twins Apart" to all their teachers.
 Barb Lee leaves—taking brother Robert by the hand.
 Rosie Kolligan leaves her beautiful clothes to Marion.
 Harris Baseman leaves—running. Some of his many girls are chasing him.
 Frannie Florencourt leaves—STILL talking.
 The "Scandinavian twins" Shirley Wallstrom and Bill Nelson leave to go erase
 Mr. Sexton's blackboard.
 Kaye Kirschbaum bequeaths her ability to capture men so completely to the junior girl with such a charming personality as she has.
 Connie Riley, Eileen Mahar, and company leave their meeting place in the old hall to next year's group of most talkative seniors.
 Billy Leary, Ed Emery, and Ed Robson leave their sparkling performances on the hockey rink as an object lesson to future members of A. H. S. hockey squads.
 Karl Norton leaves his position as president of the Bachelor's Club to any woman-hating junior.
 Pat and Ginny Daley leave, still insisting "we aren't twins."
 John Bilafer and Andy Pullo leave, slamming the door to room 4a.

Evie Caruso leaves her beauty and charm to all next year's seniors.
 Jimmy "the Curly-haired" Malone leaves the ribbing he has endured these past three years to some good-natured junior boy.
 To the well-chosen football captain for the 1949-50 season, Frank Rindoni, the game captain of this year, leaves his capable leadership.
 Margie Mills and Barb Poole leave their varied and extensive collection of jokes to Barb Mills.
 To Ardashes DerAnanian we bequeath some engraved calling cards to pass out so that people will spell his name correctly.
 John Hough leaves his artistic talent to Dave Crowley.
 Carol Smellie, Ann Menzorian, and Barb Spencer leave their important positions to the girls who will assist in the offices next year.
 Bill Emmons leaves his seat way in the back of the old hall to the next boy who "wants to be alone."
 Barbara Patterson, Helen Poznesh, and Kay Reagen leave the job of opening the school at 7:30 A. M. to the janitors.
 Kay DeMaso and Molly Thoren leave their beautiful hair to Ellie Root and Kay Reid.
 Betty Roby and Jimmy Rockwell leave the radiator in front of room 17 to the couple who will meet there each morning next year.
 Joan Gurich, Pat Ellis, and Violet Mazmanian leave chem lab—on time—for once.
 Paul Bradley gladly leaves the long (?) hours he spent doing homework to all conscientious junior boys.
 Bob Lennon leaves his capable leadership and the reins of the senior class to next year's president.
 Mim Gargill refuses to leave until she has collected all the junk left after lunch.
 Joan Abbott and Paul Pierce, Jackie Nash and Howie Hardin, Ruth Nobles and Bob Sullivan leave their ability to get along so well to Barb Kane and Carl Fuller, and Joan Townsend and Glenn Peterson.
 After three years, Barb Leonard and Faye Faulkner leave a job of cheerleading to be filled.
 Dick Borg, Paul Rubenskas, Bill Nelson, and Chris Gardner give some of their spare inches to Ed Hogan and John Waugh.
 Lois Hart leaves her popularity and personality to Barb Ryan.
 Don Forsythe leaves his tall stories and excuses to Mr. Kapff.
 David Pratt leaves his heavy history books to any junior who wants to carry them.
 Mary Pelletier and Eleanor Ann Johnson leave their oratorical abilities to any soap-box aspiring junior.
 Alice Quessy leaves some of her skating talent to next year's hockey team, but will take most of it with her to the Ice Follies.
 Roy Lundquist, Howard Chadwick, Eric Benson and Bill Aubin leave their skiing talent to the Ski Club members who will follow.

 Danny Webb leaves Dotty Johnson—but sadly.
 Jimmy O'Keefe leaves still looking for a girl that isn't stubborn and with no temper. An impossibility, Jim.
 Joe Greicci, Charlie Johnson, and Karl Tobiason leave their track prowess to Dave Gott and the rest of the '50 track team.
 Richie Eilertson and Millie Carlson leave for North Park Junior College in Chicago.
 Don Sweeny and Joe Colleran leave Mr. Sexton—at last.
 Betty Flaherty and Margaret Doran leave the "Rec" committee.
 Nancy Provost leaves all her biology classes to Mr. Sampson.
 "Bud Strout" leaves his songs and antics to Miss Krastin, who appreciates them.
 To some lucky college hockey team, we give Doug Campbell, an outstanding goalie.
 Paul Lally leaves—but after three years of "steading," he won't leave Ruthie Foley to anyone.
 The senior girls leave the smoky bus that took them to Lynn Classical to the senior girls of next year.
 Jack Doran leaves his personality-plus to next year's "best all-around boy."
 Jean Cadario and Jean Crandall leave their red hair to the junior twins, Phyllis and Mary Lou O'Neil.
 Jim Deane leaves the dust he raised whizzing between classes.
 Ronnie Higby leaves—with Marion Scott "looking up" to him.
 Paul Marino leaves his "genius" to Anthony Patton.
 To Joan Ryan we will a megaphone to magnify her soft voice.
 Olympia Dukakis, Kav Crowley, and Janet Aronson leave their athletic abilities to Bunny Bell and Jill Fraser.
 Mal Swanson leaves her talent for being absent on test days. She won't need it any more.
 Dan Fitzgibbons leaves his fighting spirit to any junior who wants to rave on.
 Bob Lennon and cousin Barb will take their popularity right with them when they leave.
 Janet Tenney and Marge Dillon leave their good looks and modeling career to the junior girls who can measure up to them.
 We all hate to leave the lunchroom Hoodsies and luncheon meat sandwiches.
 Who wouldn't?

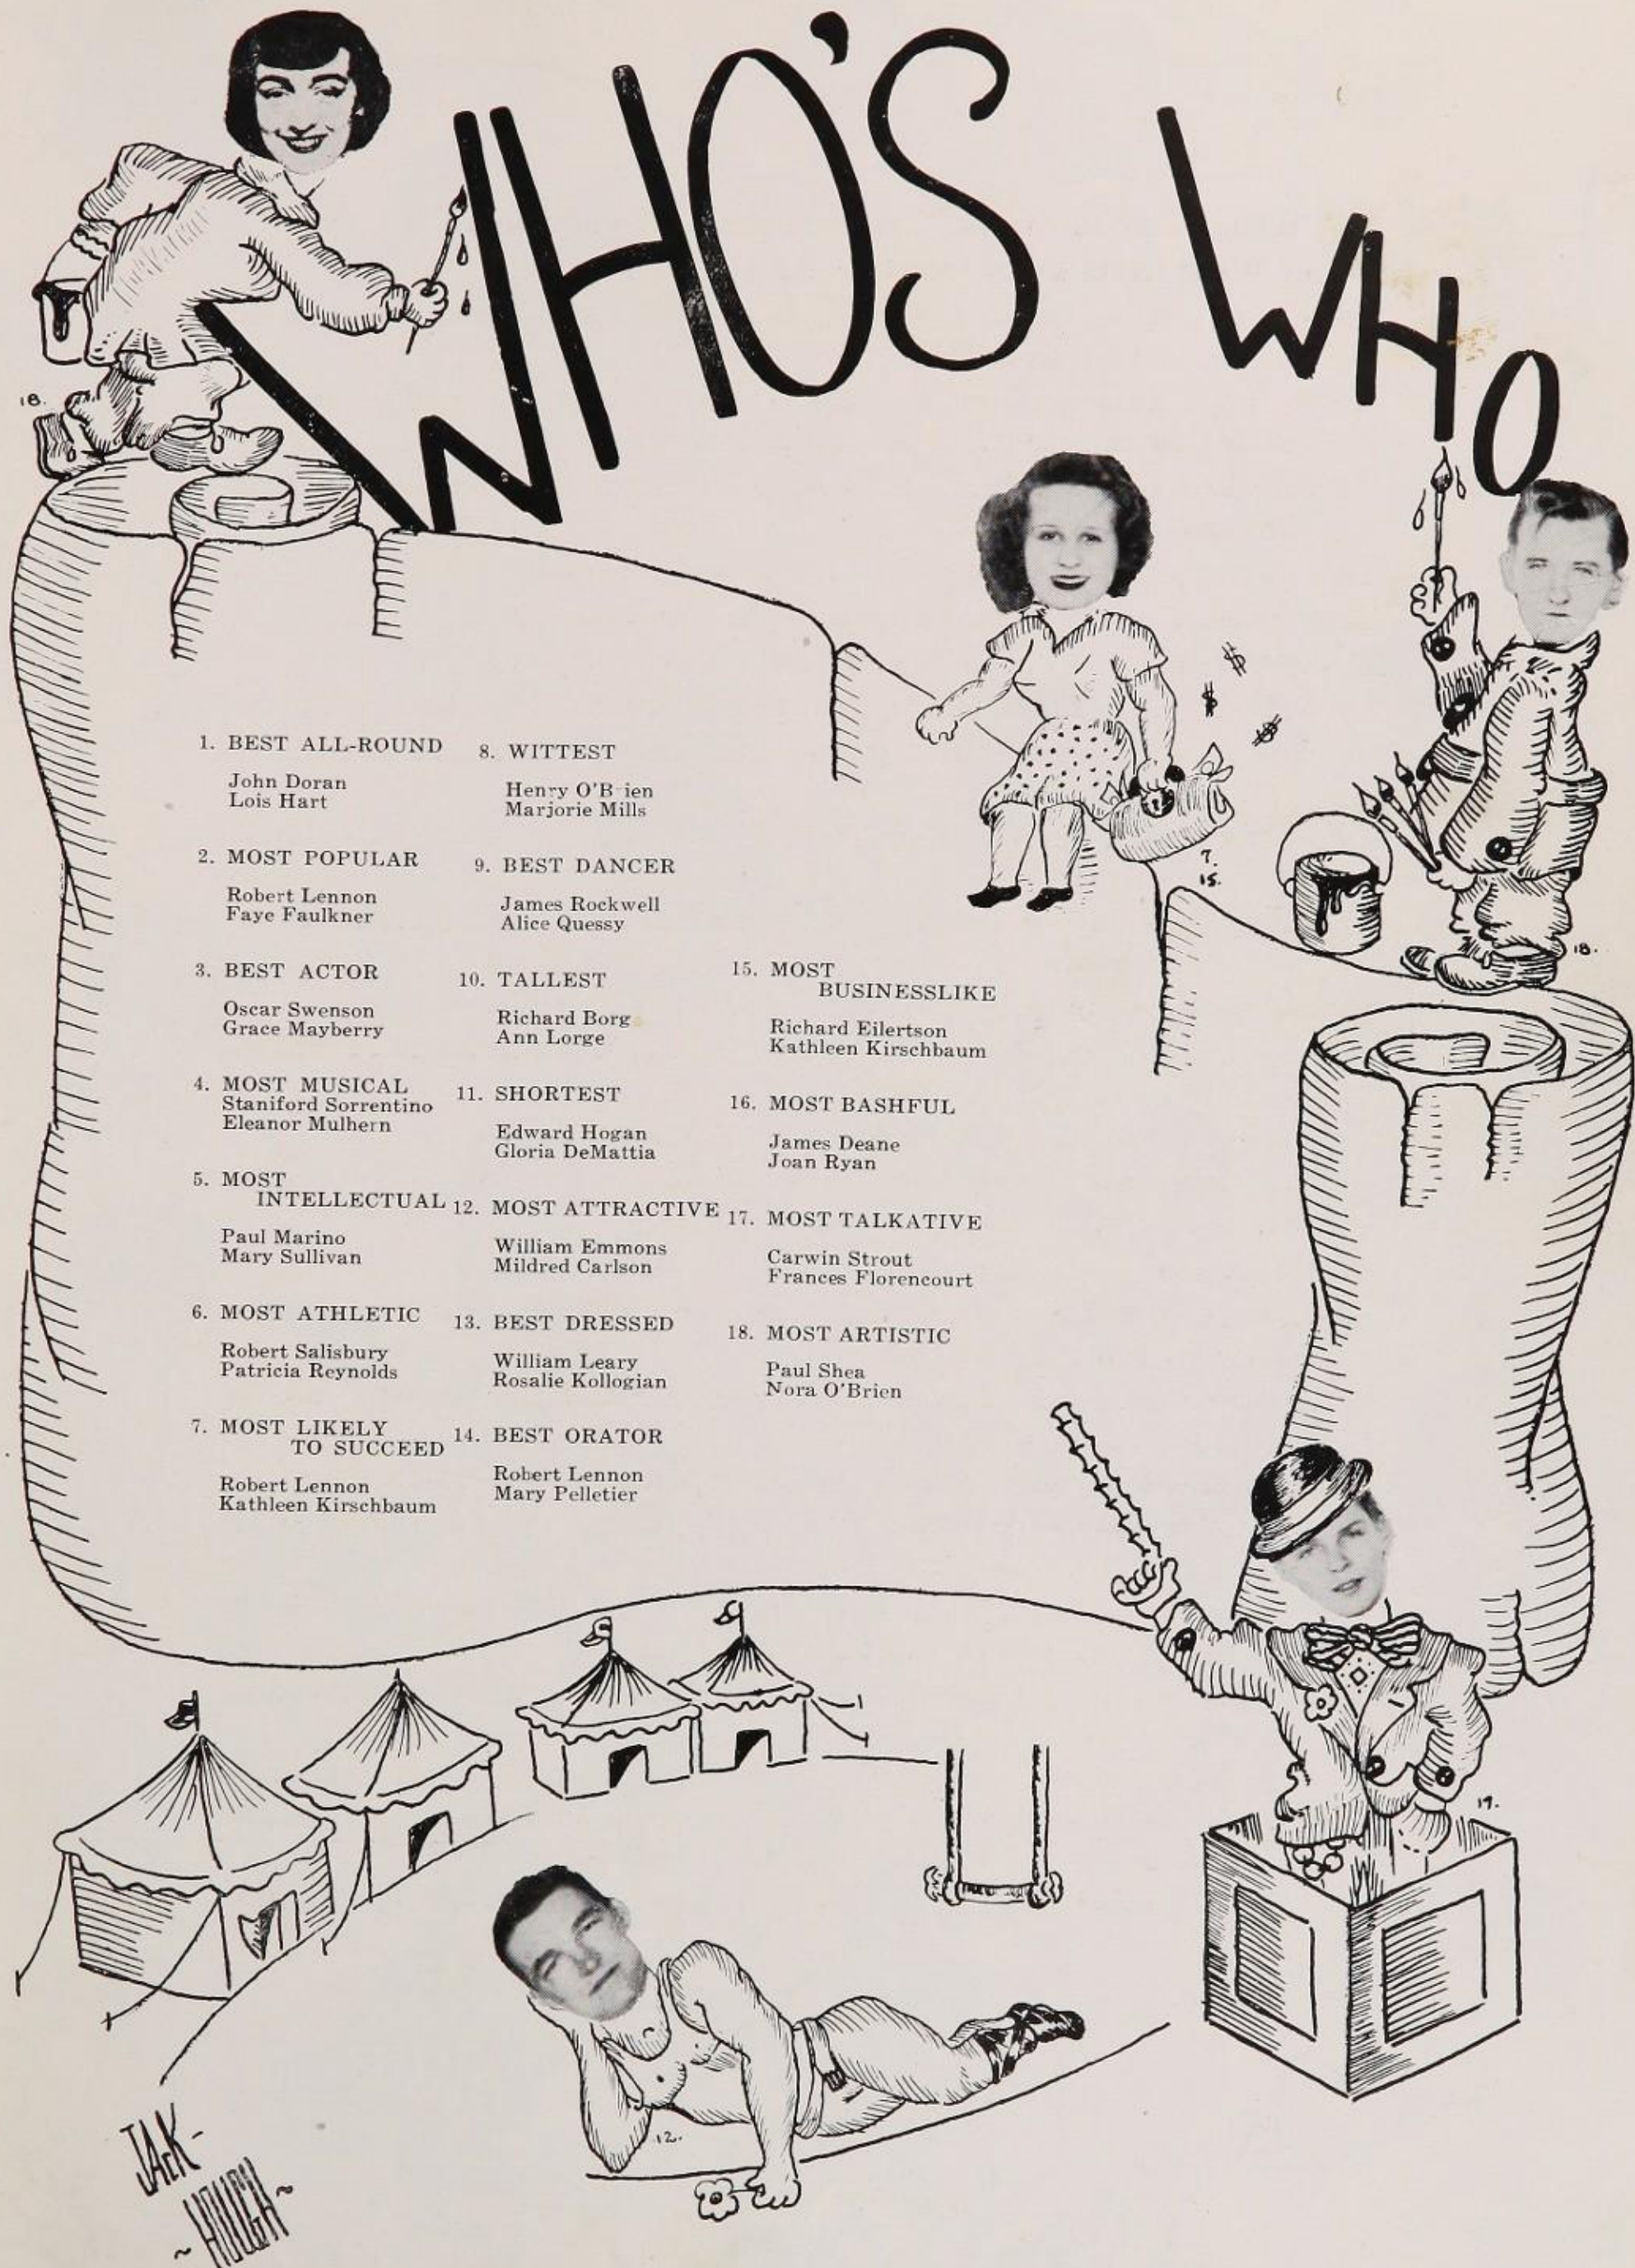

In general, we leave with the desire for fewer school days, less homework, and more social activities. But in spite of the "gribs" herein, we have had the time of our lives during our years at Arlington High School.

Year Book

Early in September a group of enthusiastic seniors met and began the tedious job of assembling a Year Book. One by one, we expressed our original and world-shaking ideas, and it was more than once that our meetings had to be quieted down by our patient faculty adviser, Mrs. Moffatt. No one knew who the editors were to be until after our picture was taken. Soon after, the real work began: writing personal write-ups, club activities, "Through the Years," counting the votes of Who's Who, to say nothing of the work the Art and Business Committees accomplished. The outcome? You're reading it now! We have endeavored to give to you a Year Book that you will be proud to show to anyone.

Many thanks go to our able staff!

Student Council

The Student Council is the main link between the students and faculty. The Council consists of twenty members: ten from the senior class, six from the junior class and four representing the sophomore class.

The faculty had a very perplexing problem in our junior year regarding the fair distribution of the tickets for the Thanksgiving football game, and the Student Council was called upon to devise a solution.

Last year our Junior Prom was a great success, thanks to the Council. This year, too, the Council worked hard to make the Senior Prom an unforgettable event.

The Student Council Conventions were not only entertaining but also very profitable. We obtained many new ideas to better our school, one of which was the erection of the Suggestion Box in Room 11 this year to bring the questions of all the students to the attention of the Council.

The Council also enjoyed acting as ushers for the Open House meetings for parents.

The Council has at all times tried its best to promote cooperation among the students and faculty at Arlington High School.

The "Rec" Committee

We seniors have enjoyed many a Friday night, dancing away our worries and cares at the "Rec." In September, 1946, when we were sophomores, we entered the Town Hall proud to show off a newly learned but modified version of the two-step. As juniors we added a glide and a dip and considered ourselves quite smooth! Now, after two years of practice, our senior year finds us all like Arthur Murray experts.

We shall never forget the many pleasant Friday evenings spent at the "Rec," either chatting around the coke bar, dancing—sometimes square dancing—or just listening to the music.

The students are indebted for this year's successful dances to the Arlington Auxiliary Police, who sponsor the "Rec." Credit is due also to Betty Flaherty, her committee, and to Mr. Johnson, the faculty adviser.

The Orchestra

Arlington High School has always been proud of its fine orchestra which it can call upon for any event. Assemblies were made all the more enjoyable, when entertaining musical compositions were performed by this talented group. Then, too, how would the Gilbert and Sullivan shows go on without the orchestra? We seniors proudly remember that the members of the orchestra in our sophomore year attended the Massachusetts State Music Festival, where they received a very high rating along with many compliments for their skillful and interpretative performances of difficult pieces of music. Also, between the acts of the Dramatic Club plays the attention of the audience turned to the orchestra members, who were in formal dress and who provided many delightful and well-known musical selections. The annual Christmas assembly will be remembered as being very spirited and inspirational. The directors, Mr. Einzig and Mr. Russell, will never be forgotten, for they gave the members excellent training, and enabled them to spend many happy musical hours during their years at Arlington High School.

The Chronicle

This year, the staff of the "Chronicle," our monthly publication, has manifested A-1 cooperation in its publication of some of the best issues ever. Each edition has provided the ardent gossip-lovers with its ever-anticipated "Scene Around" column and has kept its readers well informed with a vast coverage of news: the important events at school and interesting facts about the students, faculty members, and extra-curricular organizations. This year, as in years past, special issues have been dedicated to each of the three classes, sophomore, junior, and senior; and in this way, careful attention has been given to the members and activities of each particular class.

We are indebted to our capable editor, Kathleen Kirschbaum, and to her fine staff without whose constant efforts and unceasing cooperation the paper could not have achieved such success and support. Credit is due also to our faculty advisers, Mr. Irish and Mr. Campbell, and to Mr. Arthur, able director of his shop boys who are responsible for the actual printing of each edition.

The Fine Arts Club

The purpose of the Fine Arts Club is to stimulate an interest among the many students of Arlington High and to call on their hidden resources of talent. All of us have an artistic talent of some description, although we usually fail to recognize this fact and to cultivate it properly. Many a pupil has a yearning for the paint brush or pencil, yet because of compactly filled program of studies, is unable to fulfill this desire in school time. The members of this club have the chance to create by means of artistic media during after-school time. For those students who have an art course in their daily program, the Fine Arts Club provides an opportunity to create via media such as oil paintings, wood carving and others which cannot be made available to those not taking an art course.

The Latin Club

"Dabit deus his quoque finem" (Motto)

This club, whose membership consists of all the senior Latin students, lends greater enjoyment and appreciation to that very ancient and never dull language, Latin. The members assemble once a month, and each meeting is opened by saluting the flag (in Latin, of course), followed by a Latin roll call. The entertainment is made up of fascinating tales about the Roman deities and philosophy, and, on the humorous side, Latin jokes and modern songs, which are translated and sung in Latin. Although only two meetings have been held so far, the amateur Stoics are eagerly awaiting the Christmas party, a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, where they plan to delve into the art of the Roman era, and the party to be held in honor of the Roman new year in March. This club is proving itself to be a great pleasure and an invaluable aid to all the advanced Latin students.

Periclean Forum

One of the most fascinating and intellectual clubs at Arlington High is the Periclean Forum. The Pericleans, who are few in members but sincerely devoted to the club, meet every week in the library to discuss current world affairs. The meetings are lively and informal. This year, in addition to the weekly schedule, several members made a radio broadcast with the Middlesex School, Concord, on February third. In response to invitations from the Arlington Rotary Club and the Lions Club the Pericleans conducted several panel discussion programs. In the spring a group from Belmont High School were the guests of the Forum at Arlington High School. It is a Periclean tradition to exchange annual visits with Belmont.

The members will always be appreciative of the interesting historical and economic highlights which Miss Wakefield, their faculty adviser, provided on issues being discussed. They realize that she has helped to insure the success of every meeting and the memorable good times which they shared together.

The Dramatic Club

The past three years of the Arlington High School Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Mathews, Miss Manning, and Miss Horrigan, were active, exciting, and successful ones. Meetings were conducted according to parliamentary procedure and were brightened up with many pantomimes and skits. In our sophomore year the Dramatic Club gave an unforgettable production of "A Date With Judy." In the spring of the same year Arlington High School Dramatic Club made fame by receiving a "superior rating" for its excellent presentation of a drama entitled "The Kiss in Colin's Eye." Thus this production was sent to take part in the New England Drama Festival at Wesleyan University in Connecticut. In our junior year the serious drama entitled "Tomorrow the World" brought praise and approval from all. This time at the Drama Festival in Gloucester we held the audience spellbound with the electrifying "John Doe." Last but not least, "The Divine Flora," produced during our senior year, was another big hit. We seniors who were closely connected with the Dramatic Club will always remember the wonderful coaches who enabled us to have the most enjoyable and exciting times in our high school careers.

The Gilbert and Sullivan Club

Famous for its semi-professional technique in "packaging" musicals, the Gilbert and Sullivan Club has won many laurels for Arlington High School. In our sophomore year we applauded a magnificent performance of the "H. M. S. Pinafore." As juniors we participated in the captivating masterpiece "The Gondoliers." Now we seniors await the most dynamic production ever, "A Waltz Dream." Written by Oscar Strauss this comedy is par with even the best works of incomparable Gilbert and Sullivan. Under the capable direction of Mr. Einzig our club cannot fail to create a smash hit.

Passers-by stop, look, and listen upon hearing the strains of beautiful music bounding from Room 75. Many of us, arrested by the sweet notes, joined the happy organization of music-lovers. Bequeathing this club to the future seniors, we "forty-niners" wish them three years as brimming with success and fun as those we have shared together.

CAMERA CLUB

Camera Club

Under the capable guidance of Mr. Coletta, our art teacher, the Camera Club experienced an educational as well as exciting year. The eager photographers learned much about correct camera technique and processing at their regular meetings. Since photography is finding its place among the arts, these boys felt that to be able to take a fairly good snapshot was not enough. They understood the fun and pride of achievement which is the result of taking a fine picture.

Besides their interesting meetings, the members visited well known studios and went on outdoor excursions. Some of their best results were obtained from subjects in nature. Although the Camera Club membership is now small, we graduates know that its popularity is constantly increasing. May the club enjoy much photography fun in years to come.

The Band

The chief aim of the Band is to provide entertainment at various school and civic functions. Certainly no football game would be complete without its music and marching. The Band has also helped out both the football and hockey teams by playing at their different rallies. It is always ready to lend a helping hand when needed, playing at the Monica Cotter Benefit game and also at the Infantile Paralysis entertainment.

The Band has high hopes for the future. This year they plan to attend the Music Festivals. Since last year the Band has grown from thirty-five to fifty-five pieces, and next year it will be bigger and better than ever. It is also expected that the long-awaited new uniforms are on their way and will arrive before too long.

Certainly the Band could never function so capably if it were not for the hard work of Mr. Russell, the director.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club has provided all of us with much thrilling entertainment. However, the girls claim that they are the ones who have had the most fun. These Arlington High School song birds, thirty-five in number, have attended several music festivals. Two years ago they went to the New England Festival, and last year they visited Medford for a festival. A year ago the girls delighted an audience at the Arlington Woman's Club with some of the loveliest selections in their repertoire. At present the singers are preparing a concert to be held here at school for the students. There will be several other public appearances before the school year is finished. Much of the credit for the club's success is due to the excellent supervision of Mr. Russell, who has directed its lively and memorable rehearsals.

Forgotten Men

For three years now we have been meeting our friends in the lunchroom, eating our sandwiches, and discussing activities of the day. We have bought our lunches each day and handed to the persons behind the cash registers our dollar bills. Even though those people across the counter have served us willingly throughout the years, we have never given them a smile or a thank-you.

It is to these people that we owe our very existence. Without them we would have starved. They watched us eat while they worked; they longingly saw us laugh and talk with friends while they counted money; and when we, fully replenished, left the lunchroom in an uproar, they sat down to eat alone, amid the rubble of empty dishes, milk bottles, and lunch bags.

Even though we may seem to have forgotten you in the rush and bustle of lunchtime, we want all you "forgotten men" to know that we do realize what you have done for us, and we want to extend to you our heartfelt thanks.

G. A. A.

The G. A. A., or Girls' Athletic Association, is one of Arlington High School's leading clubs. Composed of more than one hundred girls, the club has many parties, games, and activities. Under the able leadership of Miss Garrity and Miss McCarty, it has prospered this year as always. Early in September all members, both new and old, met to elect officers for the coming year. The results of the election were as follows: Janet Aronson, president; Barbara Mills, vice-president; Frances Bell, treasurer; and Janet Tenney, secretary.

Initiation was the first "party" held this year. All sorts of games were planned for new members. Inter-class sports, and singing were planned, also. During the day all new members were required to wear a vegetable corsage, braids, and a name tag. Gloria Cahaly won the prize for the cleverest and most original. Cider and doughnuts were served at the end of the meeting.

The G. A. A. field day was held early in November at Spy Pond field. While games of field hockey were being played, a group of selected "cooks" were preparing hot dogs and cokes. These were greatly appreciated.

Parties and trips to the beach in the spring are planned to make this club one of Arlington High School's very best.

Field Hockey

The Arlington High girls' field hockey team enjoyed another successful season this fall, racking up its third undefeated season in four years.

This season the girls defeated Concord 1-0, Medford 5-0, Melrose 4-0, and Lexington 2-0. They tied Winchester 0-0, Belmont 1-1, and Malden 0-0.

Pat Reynolds, with five goals, and Sally Cooledge, with four, were high scorers. These performers were later selected to play for one of the two all-school teams which won an exhibition game.

In addition to the regular schedule, the girls participated in the high school girls' hockey field day, sponsored by the Boston Field Hockey Association, October 16, and defeated Canton 1-0, Newton 3-0, and Buckingham 4-0.

All this was achieved under the very capable coaching of Miss Katherine McCarty and the fighting spirit of the team. The girls enjoyed their three years of field hockey and they displayed excellent sportsmanship.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Front Row (left to right): M. Decareau, J. Tenney, J. Aronson. Back Row: M. Hefron, O. Dukakis, Miss Garrity, M. Doran, L. Floyd.

Girls' Tennis

This year the girls' tennis team hopes to perfect the good strokes and techniques which they have developed in the past two years. The girls are also determined to overcome their few weak points. They look to Miss Garrity, their able coach, to aid them in making the most of their sports ability. With her help the team shows excellent promise. Janet Tenney, who not only is speedy on the courts but also has an unusually strong serve, was captain of the 1948 team and an outstanding veteran player. As soon as the 1949 season starts this spring many exciting moments will be expected. The team will meet powerful opponents in Belmont, Winchester, Lexington, Concord, Melrose, and Malden. Best wishes for a successful season!

SOFTBALL

Front Row (left to right) : D. Crosby, S. Cooledge, A. Donahue, K. Reid, F. Bell, H. Hughes. Second Row: M. Page, K. Crowley, B. Cree, P. Daley, G. Merrill. Back Row: C. Walsh, B. Watson, B. Clifford.

Softball

The girls' softball team has made outstanding progress and has gained in popularity among the girls' sports during our three years at Arlington High School. The powerful 1948 team, for instance, suffered only one defeat, against Medford, in the entire season. This year the team has only a few veteran players back. The infield consists mostly of some top-notch juniors. Ann Donahue plays first base, Sally Cooledge second, and "Kitchie" Reid shortstop. These girls back up "Bunny" Bell's superb pitching. The team is coached by Miss McCarty, with Marilyn Page and "Gerry" Merrill as managers. This year's spring season has not started yet, but it promises to be a bright one for the girls. The team is just ready and waiting to show Lexington, Belmont, Cambridge Latin, Medford, Winchester, and Concord what girls from Arlington High School can do.

Girls' Basketball

Every Monday, Tuesday and Friday afternoon the walls of the girls' gym echo with cheers for the Arlington High School basketball squad. The girls will never forget their disappointment in 1947 when their only defeat in nine victories was by a very small margin from Watertown.

Because all the letter girls who made the team excellent had graduated, Miss McCarty started off in 1948 with a new team which showed its ability by winning seven out of ten games.

This year, too, the girls started off on a wonderful season by winning two out of three games, the third one being lost by only one basket.

What team would not have a successful season with such athletic young misses and a capable captain like Phyllis DiCiaccio!

Ski Club

The first meeting of the Arlington High School Ski Club was held on the first Tuesday after Thanksgiving. At this meeting the officers were nominated. At the next meeting the officers were elected, and the committees were chosen. The club, which claims fifty of our students as members, has drawn up a constitution in order to become affiliated with the U. S. E. A. S. A., an organization of great benefit to the skier.

The Ski Club runs three tests so that the skiers may be classified according to their skill. Only members who have passed the third test are eligible for Ski Club emblems. The third test consists of fundamentals and simple turns like snow plows. At many meetings interesting films on the technique of skiing were shown. Trips to nearby mountain areas provide fun and experience for all, and even though there was a lack of snow this year, the Ski Club experienced a worthwhile year.

Golf Club

Golf, a sport ever increasing in popularity all over the world, has some very adept enthusiasts right here in Arlington High.

The "Red and Gray" golf club and team, under the excellent direction of Mr. Arthur, has achieved a large amount of success throughout past years.

Though unable to capture a title in 1947, the team enjoyed a successful season and defeated most of its adversaries. In 1948, however, with the return of such outstanding golfers as "Bob" Bianchi, "Larry" Warren, and Perley Arthur from the previous year, and the addition of two top-notchers, "Fred" Cameron and Carl Fuller, the team emerged at the season's end wearing the Greater Boston crown.

Since all the aforementioned boys are returning this year, plus several up and coming reserves like Albert Woodis, Warren Rich, "Dick" Hoey, and "Bill" Nelson, an equally successful season is anticipated in 1949.

Calauti, J. Livingston, Kelley, C. Leveroni.

Track

The track team, coached by its very capable "Doc" McCarty, has completed another of its usual successful years. In the first meet of the season "Dave" Gott and "Joe" Griecci ran a splendid race, placing first and second respectively in the mile. The following week they duplicated their performance by coming in far ahead of the other competitors. In the other events Arlington High also excelled, due to its superior quality of trackmen. "Charlie" Johnson, Ronald Wilson and "Bob" Stevens have repeated their performances in cross country by setting the pace in the 1,000-yard and the 600-yard run. "Bill" Murray has done a marvelous job in the dash. John Doran and "Frank" Rindoni heaved the 12-pound shot to constant victory while "Pete" McGrath and "Chris" Gardner cleared the high jump bar consistently for points. If "Doc" has as good a team next year as he has had this year, he will indeed be a happy man.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country

"Doc" McCarty's cross country team was truly a great success this year. After completing an undefeated season in their duel meets, the boys went on to win the divisional championship and finished off the season by winning the New England title. Captain "Joe" Griecci, powerfully supported by his fellow harriers, led his team to victory against the best cross country teams throughout New England. Arlington High School is indeed proud of the magnificent record set by this team. They are justly proud of "Doc" McCarty, the undisputed hero of Arlington High School athletics, who again showed his superiority in this display of what "his boys" can do. Ronald Wilson and Robert Stevens, two of the veterans of this year's team, will return to captain next year's team to as great a glory as has been achieved by the New England cross country champions of 1948.

Boy's Basketball

In the past two years the Arlington High Hoopsters have been led by two different coaches, and now, in 1949, still another man is guiding the team.

It was Coach Toczykowski who directed his boys in 1947 through a tough schedule with excellent results. In 1948 Mr. Fusco shaped such outstanding holdovers as "Bill" Stevens, "Bob" Carmody, "Bill" Canty, "Joe" Guarnotta, and others into a winning group which just missed the Tech tourney.

With Coach George Lowder coming to the fore this year, another very successful season is hoped for. Standouts from last year's squad who are looked to for even greater work this season include the following: Alan Kenney, "Dave" Farnum, "Bill" Bowler, "Whitey" Derosier, "Jack" Donnelly, and "Bud" Strout.

A rugged fourteen-game schedule lies ahead of the lads, but Coach Lowder is a tried and proven leader who is expected to produce a topnotch team.

ICE HOCKEY

Russell, Mr. Borns. Back Row: E. Hogan, J. Aiken, J. Weisback, D. O'Brien, F. Cameron, P. Cooney, W. Doherty, P. Shea.

Ice Hockey

During the past three years, Arlington High has won for itself an everlasting memorial in the annals of Greater Boston hockey history. In 1946 and 1947, under Coach Downs, the G. B. I., Metropolitan, and N. E. championships were won. The graduation of several key men led many to believe that the 1947 and 1948 season would be a bad one for Arlington. However, when strong Medford floundered in its last few games, and with a fighting team directed by Coach Burns, the Red and Gray captured the laurels for the second straight year. Now, the class of 1949 may be justly proud of its members who have so successfully emulated their team-mates of previous years. Yes, for the third consecutive year, the G. B. I. crown was brought home to Arlington. In looking back, we shall connect hockey with names like Leary, Emery, Robson, Campbell, Meehan, Emmons, and innumerable others, who are so worthy of commendation.

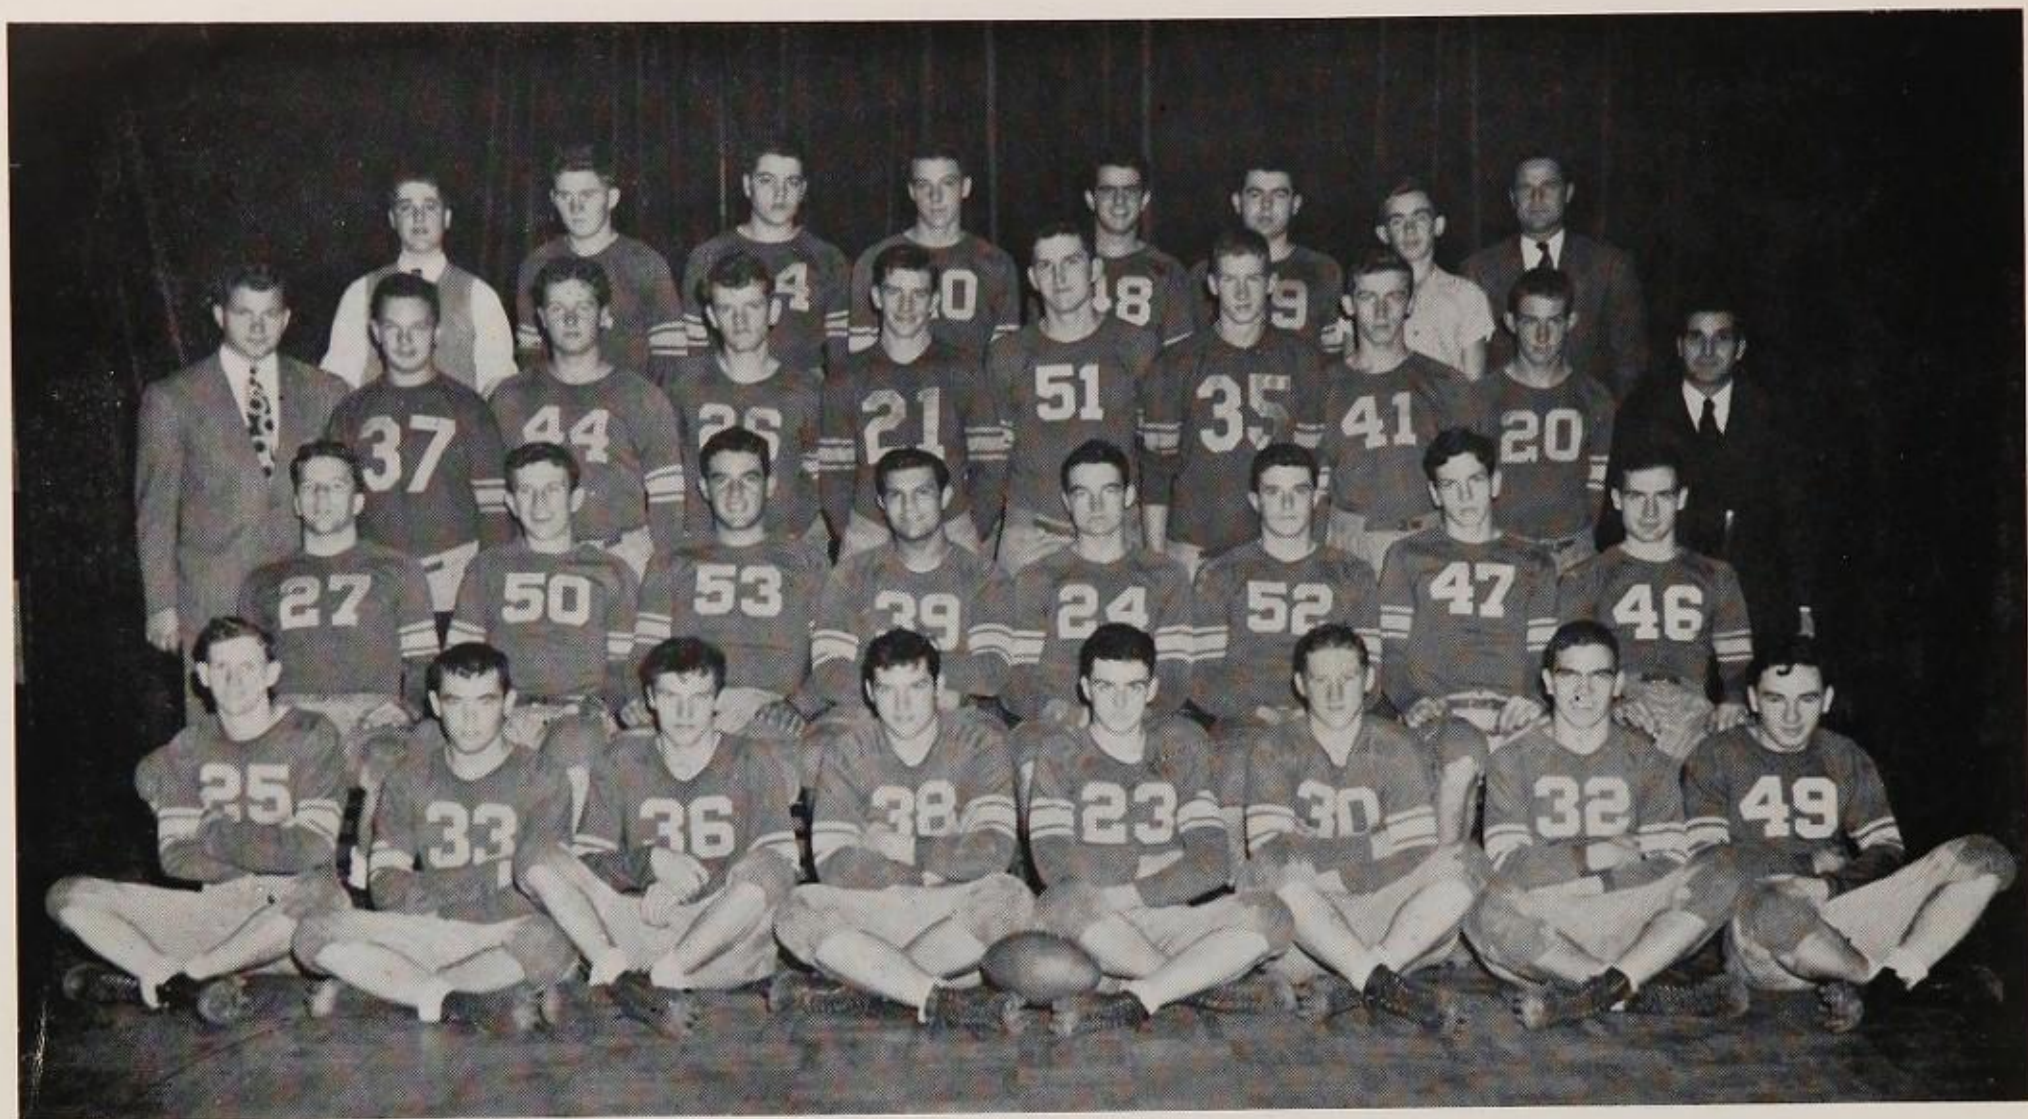

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders

On Thursday, September 23, the cheerleaders for the 1948 football season were chosen. With twenty-two zestful and lovely finalists to select from, the judges found it hard to make their decisions. They must have made wise ones, though, because throughout the entire season, the vivacious group helped to lead our team to many victories by their continued, stirring support. Faye Faulkner, assisted by Barbara Leonard, was the head cheerleader. They planned and carried out several wonderful rallies, where all the students joined in the cheering and fun. Of course, the excitement of the grand rally held the day before Thanksgiving was exceeded only by the thrill of the big game itself. Surely the enthusiasm helped the cause of victory on that memorable occasion.

The Football Team

If Arlington High's football team had had as many breaks as it had All-star players, such as "Bill" Emmons, "Jack" Doran, "Bob" Salisbury, and Henry "Babe" O'Brien, it would have had many more victories. After starting the season hopefully with a victory over Newton High, we bowed to Somerville, tied Leominster, and took successive lickings from champion Malden and strong Waltham. However, under the able coaching of Henry Toczyłowski, "Jim" Cavalieri, and Leo Reardon, and with hard playing by such scrappy players as "Bill" Murray, Paul Lally, "Jack" Donnelly, "Ronnie" Higby, and the others, we picked ourselves off the ground and knocked over a strong and favored Lynn Classical club. Victory must have tasted sweet, because after Classical, Arlington came home and trounced a rugged Watertown team; and, going away again, thoroughly mauled Medford. A favored Arlington eleven entered the Melrose game on Thanksgiving Day in hopes of ending the season with a victory, but they soon found out that they would have no picnic. Melrose cracked the supposedly heavier Arlington line to gain quite a few yards and passed over them for a touchdown in the first half. Arlington looked beaten. Nevertheless, in the second half, a brand new Arlington club with strong determination to win took over the field, and by some of the hardest playing they had done all season they broke through the seemingly impenetrable Melrose line and connected passes in her team's backfield. From here on it was give and take, with Arlington, in its most thrilling game of the year, coming from behind to win, 15-6. All in all, it must be said that it was a very good season, both for the boys on the field and for their fellow students, who cheered them from what might have been a poor season to a victorious one.
